West Diesel will represent the brand in Denmark and Greenland

Franco-Italian engine manufacturer Nanni has appointed a new official importer to represent the brand in Denmark and Greenland.

West Diesel has more than 25 years' experience within diesel engines and hydraulic equipment. The company's technicians and sales engineers work with customers and external consultants on the design, development and supply of solutions for diesel propulsion engines, generator sets, emergency diesels and cranes for marine, industry and offshore applications.

With this new partnership, Nanni has strengthened its international network to more than 100 exclusive importers worldwide.
