East Coast Power Systems will represent the Franco-Italian engine brand throughout eastern Canada

Franco-Italian engine manufacturer Nanni has appointed a new importer to represent the brand on the east of Canada.

East Coast Power Systems (a division of Sansom Equipment since 1990) specialises in sales, parts and service of industrial and marine diesel engines.

Thanks to the company's four points of sales, Nanni products will now be served in the eastern Canadian provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland and Labrador, Quebec and Ontario.

With this new partnership, Nanni has strengthened its international network to more than 100 exclusive importers worldwide.
